

Stocksbridge Junior School

Issue No. 627

17/04/2025

After two weeks of lovely sunny weather during our Easter holidays, it has been a bit of a shock to revert to much chillier weather this week. Nevertheless, our SJS children have made a positive start to our Summer term, returning with their usual enthusiasm. Our Y3 children have been out in the community on a walk, putting their Geography skills into practice. Meanwhile, back in school, the other year groups have also been settling back to their learning. In Year 4, children have been transported back to ancient times as they started their learning about the Greeks, whilst in Year 5, production of their cuddly toys for their current DT project, has begun. Our Year 6 children are now starting to think about being prepared for their SATs next month and are working incredibly hard. After our four-day week settling back into school life, we hope you all enjoy a long weekend celebrating Easter. We can only hope that when we come back next week, we have an improvement in weather so we can start to look ahead and enjoy all the exciting events that take place this term.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

The book Mrs Gavin has chosen this week is 'My Beautiful Voice' by Joseph Coelho. It's about a very shy girl who never speaks in class—until her teacher helps her find her courage. With gentle encouragement, she writes a poem... and then something amazing happens. She stands up, reads it aloud, and discovers something powerful: her voice is beautiful. This book reminds us that everyone has a voice worth hearing—even if it's quiet. It shows us that with kindness, encouragement, and a bit of bravery, we can all speak up and share who we are. So this week, think about your own voice. What do you want to say? What makes your voice special? Remember: your voice matters.
